

WANTED

Have you been recently discharged from a surgical or general ward in this hospital?

We are a team of researchers working with Queen Alexandra Hospital and we need your help.

We want to find out how patients and nursing staff can be supported to involve patients in their personal care while in hospital as much as they would like.

You could help us understand how patients could get more involved in decisions about personal care (drinking enough fluid, skin care, toileting, keeping active, stopping bedsores from developing and eating healthily).

We need people recently discharged from hospital to take part in three short discussion groups in the QuAD Building at QA on Wednesday 11th October and Wednesday 18th October (11.15-1pm). The final group will be held in Chichester in early November, date and time to be agreed with interested people.

We will cover all travel expenses and give you a £15 voucher for taking part in each group to say thank you. Tea and coffee will be available from 11.15 and lunch will be provided afterwards.

People with additional needs can be under-represented in research, so please talk to us about how we can help you join us and make your contribution to this valuable work
